B.C.'s Highest Mountain Conquered By Climbers

VANCOUVER (CP)—A party of four climbers has conquered 15,200-foot Mount Fairweather, British Columbia's highest mountain. They reached the summit at 9:45 p.m. Thursday.

Success of the climb, a B.C. centennial project was reported by George Kitson, amateur radio operator at northern Lituva Bay. The mountain is situated in the boundary between B.C. and the Alaska Panhandle. Only one of the four was identified: Phil Broda of West Vancouver.

The original eight climbers split into two parties. The final ascent was made from camp 2 at 9,400 feet, starting at 8:30 a.m.

Members of the climbing teams are Paul Binkert, Vancouver; Dave Blair, North Vancouver; Joe Hutton, North Vancouver; Dr. Denis Moore, Newton; Walter Romanes, Vancouver; Paddy Sherman, North Vancouver; Russ Yard, Dollarton, B.C., and Broda.

They are members of the Alpine Club of Canada. The mountain has been conquered only once before, in 1931 by a group of Americans.

Thugs Steal Clothing, Shoes From City Store

Third case of theft from a local retail outlet within eight days occurred this morning. Latest robbery—and most daring of the three—was at William's Men's Wear where the thief or thieves broke a front window crawled through the hole and made off with an undetermined amount of men's clothing and shoes.

Robbery was discovered by workmen of City Window Cleaners, who promptly notified RCMP. Police late this morning were pressing their investigation, but had no conclusive proof as yet. The local lockup this morning more or less vacant during the past several days, had an occupancy of six, including four individuals charged in connection with two break-ins that occurred from June 20 on.

In court Friday, Harold Floyd McFall, 18, and two juvenile-aged youths were charged with theft.

Barrister Raps Power Of B.C. Law Benchers

PENTICTON (CP)—A Prince George lawyer appealed unsuccessfully to the Law Society of B.C. Friday to support his move for amendment of the legal professions act.

John Meredith Tayler proposed a motion censuring the benchers, the law society's governing body, for suspending him from practice for six months "for criticizing a county court judge."

He later withdrew the motion and proposed instead that the law society ask the attorney-general to present a petition to the legislature urging that the power of benchers be reduced.

The motion found a seconded but was overwhelmingly defeated by the society's annual meeting despite a claim by the lawyer that the benchers "are trying to suppress me because I am outspoken."

Mr. Tayler said the benchers refused to give reasons for his suspension "because it is impossible to justify their decision according to law."

"I still have no idea what offence I was charged with or why I was convicted," he said. He said he resumed practice April 5 after the suspension. "I am not afraid of going to jail in my campaign against the absolute power of benchers over members of the legal profession," he said.

Bottling Firm To Build Here

Another new industry for Kelowna will take shape on Monday night when city council will move to sell seven city-owned lots to the Canada Dry company for a bottling and distributing plant here.

It is understood that Okanagan Investments will purchase the property for the company which will erect a plant to service the interior.

While no official announcement is yet forthcoming from the company, informed sources say the land purchase will be completed as soon as city council takes the necessary steps on Monday night.

This will be the second new plant in Kelowna to be announced within two weeks. Crown Zellerbach officially announced that it would this fall construct on its north end property a corrugated box fabrication plant and storage warehouse which would give employment to some 25 men the greater part of each year.

In addition to Crown and Canada Dry plants, it is understood that at least two other firms are seriously considering locating here. One of these is said to be "a certainty."

Asked why the sudden interest of firms to locate in Kelowna, one spokesman said that the bridge was an important factor.

"With the bridge in operation, Kelowna is the logical centre of distribution for the southern interior. Hitherto the ferries have been a detriment, dividing the Okanagan into two sections. The replacement of the ferries by the bridge simply means that north and south service will be very feasible and very easy."

COURIER WILL NOT PUBLISH TUESDAY

With Tuesday, July 1 being Dominion Day, there will be no publication of The Daily Courier.

Stores, banks and business houses will also celebrate the holiday. Retail outlets will observe regular shopping hours on Monday, June 30.

First major influx of tourists to the Okanagan is expected over the weekend—for those fortunate enough to knock off an extra day (Monday).

Holiday Death Toll Climbing

Eleven persons—six in one Quebec highway crash—were killed on Canadian roads in the first 16 hours of the Dominion Day holiday weekend, a Canadian Press survey showed today.

An Ontario man was run over by a train to bring the country's accidental death total to 12 since the count began at 6 p.m. local times Friday night. No drownings were reported.

Four traffic fatalities were reported in Alberta and one in Nova Scotia. The Canadian Safety Council has predicted 45 persons will die in traffic mishaps on the four-day holiday weekend ending at midnight Tuesday. During the three-day 1957 Dominion Day weekend there were 54 traffic deaths.

The holiday weekend is traditionally a heavy one for travel with schools closing for the summer and youngsters going to summer camps.

Railway and airlines reported heavy bookings, particularly in the West.

Alaska May Become U.S. 49th State

WASHINGTON (AP)—Heartened by preliminary victories, backers predicted today the Senate will vote next week to make Alaska the 49th state.

Senator Henry Jackson (Dem. Wash.), floor manager for the statehood bill, said he expects Senate passage of the measure without change from the form already approved by the House of Representatives.

BULLETIN

LONDON (AP)—The Soviet Union said tonight two Russian fighter planes "compelled" a four-engine U.S. Air Force plane to make a forced landing Friday on Soviet territory. Radio Moscow said the plane burned after the landing and its nine crew members were detained.

Four London park commissioners went to Toledo with the intention of picking up the runaway seal and bringing him back to his pool here. They returned home empty handed.

The commissioners met with Mr. Skeldon and agreed to discontinue on Cyril's ownership until the full 30-man Toledo zoo board can meet.

Mr. Skeldon made it known he doesn't believe the seal will be making the return trip, saying: "When he has recovered, we'll put him in a special pool as an extra summer attraction."

"We caught it in American water. I am convinced we have some right to the seal. Whether it is a legal right or a moral right, I don't know."

Director Skeldon refused the $200 reward offered by the London Free Press. "We aren't interested in the money. It's the principle of the thing. London made no effort to catch the seal. We did. We don't think we'll often have a chance to capture a California seal in Lake Erie."

Earl Nichols, assistant chairman of the London Public Utilities Commission, replied: "You have been straightforward and we will be too. While we are extremely grateful for your excellent work, we did not ask the Toledo zoo to capture the seal. A reward was offered, and as you went out, we think you are entitled only to the reward, not the seal."

Unveiling of the plaque. These details, however, have not as yet been worked out.

While the plaque is being erected by the City of Kelowna, it is recognized that the bridge will be of equal value to the surrounding district and so this, too, is being included.

The plaque will bear the following inscription: "In appreciation of the interest and contribution of Hon. W. A. C. Bennett, Premier of the Province of British Columbia, in the construction of this bridge, this plaque has been erected by the citizens of the city of Kelowna and district."

Ford Plans Canadian Six-Cylinder Engine

WINDSOR, Ont. (CP)—Ford of Canada, bucking the recession which has cut deeply into new car sales, has scheduled all-Canadian production of its six-cylinder engine in six months.

President Rhyss M. Sale, announcing the stop Friday, said it will mean increased employment at the Windsor plant and at a foundry in Sarnia, Ont., where the engine blocks are to be manufactured.

The $4,000,000 program to develop six-cylinder engine production in Canada began two years ago and will complete its final phase next fall when Holmes

OHIO WON'T LET HIM GO

Sea-Faring Sea Lion In Pack Of Trouble

LONDON, Ont. (CP)—London's marathon swimmer, Cyril the sea-faring sea lion, was captured Friday after a nine-day Lake Erie jaunt. But Springbank Park's meandering mammal won't be coming home from an outbreak of dime-sized lumps and a king-sized headache—after-effects of tranquilizer shots used in his capture—now finds himself in the middle of what could be an international incident.

Cyril was captured by experts from the Toledo, Ohio, zoo in a boat house on Sandusky Bay about 50 miles from Toledo.

Toledo zoo director Phil Skeldon said the seal will be making the return trip, saying: "When he has recovered, we'll put him in a special pool as an extra summer attraction."

Plaque Will Recognize Premier's Contribution In Building Bridge

A plaque permanently recognizing the contribution of Premier W. A. C. Bennett in the construction of the bridge, will be erected by the City of Kelowna.

Mr. Bennett refused to have any part of the suggestion that the bridge be named "the Bennett Bridge" but it was felt that as Mr. Bennett had so long been associated with the ferries and the bridge as president of the board of trade, as member of the legislature and as premier, that some permanent recognition of his services should be made.

A request to erect a plaque carrying a suitable inscription was made to the officials of the toll authority and was granted this week.

It is anticipated that the plaque will be ready and in place at the time of the bridge opening and that some place will be made in the opening ceremonies for the unveiling of the plaque. These details, however, have not as yet been worked out.

While the plaque is being erected by the City of Kelowna, it is recognized that the bridge will be of equal value to the surrounding district and so this, too, is being included.

The plaque will bear the following inscription: "In appreciation of the interest and contribution of Hon. W. A. C. Bennett, Premier of the Province of British Columbia, in the construction of this bridge, this plaque has been erected by the citizens of the city of Kelowna and district."

Parliament And Congress Function Quite Differently

The people of this country and those of the United States are too prone to assume that because our Parliament is elected by the people and the United States Congress is elected by the people the two bodies are almost identical in function, if not in name. This, of course, is far from the truth. Indeed, the similarity between our Parliament and the United States Congress almost ends with their election itself.

The Winnipeg Free Press discussing the idea that this country and the United States should each establish a legislative committee on relations with the other, examined the difficulties which would face such a committee.

The Free Press said:

Speaking on Sunday to an American audience, the Prime Minister warmly endorsed the idea that Canada and the United States should each establish a legislative committee on relations with the other. This proposal was made by the two United States Congressmen, Messrs. Hays and Coffin, who recently reported on Canada for the foreign affairs committee of the House of Representatives. In supporting it, Mr. Diefenbaker shows a commendable flexibility and willingness to experiment.

The idea was not, of course, entirely new when it came from the U.S. Congressmen. Something of the sort has been talked about, in Washington and Ottawa, for some years. That it should now be given impetus by Mr. Diefenbaker is logical and welcome.

The impetus will not, however, be productive if the difficulties are not understood. Like so many other arrangements, committees of this sort sound excellent in theory and yet, when you come to examine the details, it is very hard to see exactly what they are going to occupy their time with. The normal fate of such committees, at every level of affairs from parish to parliament, is that they start with a burst of enthusiasm but meet less and less frequently.

That may seem an unreal danger so far as the relations between Canada and the United States are concerned. There is no doubt that these relations are becoming increasingly closer and more important to both countries, and therefore inevitably posing more problems for solution. Canada is governed by a Parliament and the United States by a Congress. What could seem more simple and natural than that the legislatures of the two countries should establish parallel committees to take a special interest in matters in which Canada and the United States have close mutual concern?

The difficulty is that the legislatures of the two countries are really very different animals with very different responsibilities. The Parliament of Canada is always working in close harmony with the Government—the Prime Minister and his cabinet; if it is not, there has to be a change of Government or Parliament or both. In the United States the Administration—the President and his cabinet—is often far from in harmony with the Congress.

The effects of this difference have already been seen in one committee. That is the joint ministerial committee in which Ministers of the Canadian and U.S. cabinets meet from time to time to discuss the economic relations of the two countries. It is an open secret that at such meetings only a part of the time is spent in arriving at a reasonably agreed view so far as the two Governments are concerned. For Canada, that is the end of the problem; Ministers are the leaders of Parliament and speak for it. But the U.S. Ministers are not the leaders of Congress. They may not want to raise tariffs against, say, Canadian lead and zinc; but it is Congress that decides. And in joint meetings of the two Governments, a great deal of time is spent discussing not what ought to be done but, in effect, how far Congress will collaborate with what the two Governments can pretty readily agree on.

The problem leads naturally to the suggestion that there should be legislative committees looking at Canadian-United States relations, in parallel with the consultations between the two Governments. Certainly that is desirable but it faces an immediate difficulty. A Congressional committee will be mixed in party composition; it may well, indeed, consist of a majority of Democrats when the Administration is Republican. If it is to carry any influence with Congress as a whole, its membership must certainly include some leading Congressmen from both parties. To have such a committee looking closely at U.S. relations with Canada would be of very great benefit. If it is established there ought to be very warm appreciation on our side. But to show that appreciation in a practical way is by no means easy.

The obvious way is, as Mr. Diefenbaker suggests, to set up a parallel committee in Ottawa. But who are our equivalents to the leading U.S. Congressmen who would serve on an effective Congressional committee? They are, in fact, Ministers. That is the difference between the two forms of government: U.S. Ministers do not match our Ministers in authority, and by the same token our Parliament cannot match—outside the ranks of Ministers—the leading U.S. Congressmen.

This is the difficulty in Mr. Diefenbaker's suggestion that must be frankly recognized. It involves an attempt to bend our British-style parliamentary system to match in some way the different distribution of authority in the American presidential system. The difficulty is certainly no reason for failing to establish a parliamentary committee. But if it is to be of any political value, rather than a source of disappointment to us and to Americans, very special steps will have to be taken to make sure that the best possible people serve on the committee, with a full awareness of the problems they face.

OTTAWA REPORT

Maybe Sask. Missing Out!

By PATRICK NICHOLSON
(Specially Written For The Kelowna Daily Courier)

OTTAWA — The Galt "Evening Reporter" has stirred up interest here by its revelation that "fried grasshoppers" sell as a delicacy in the U.S.A. at $1 for a one-ounce carton. Whatever else the 1958 harvest may bring forth, it would be a failure of the "hopper" crop. Badly infested areas on the prairies may have as much as one and one-half tons of grasshoppers to the acre.

At $1 per ounce, this represents a yield of $48,000 to the acre, provided the farmer collects, fries, packages and retails his harvest himself. With the more conventional harvest of wheat yielding around $30 to the acre, maybe our prairie farmers are not sitting on a bonanza without knowing it, and maybe Trade Minister Gordon Churchill is wasting his time trying to sell the wrong product from Saskatchewan in the markets of the world.

The catch of course is that it is a very limited market which enjoys nibbling a grasshopper with its cocktail. Less exotic humans take a mouthful of "hoppers" raw on the prairie—unwillingly. DE GAULLE IN POWER

A month ago the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation was giving us its interpretation of republic-shaking events in France in somewhat free-wheeling phraseology. Are any faces red in that costly corporation, now that General De Gaulle has been constitutionally appointed president of France? For his backers are those same people so recently described over this nation's radio system as "Fascist thugs," "club-wielding ex-paratroopers," "a would-be Napoleon," and "right-wing extremist groups" and the like.

WHAT THEY SAY

"Having lived for so long with four women—a wife and three daughters—perhaps I could have a chance to speak with relatively few interruptions," declared Hon. George Hess, Minister of Transport, at the Trinity College graduation exercises at Port Hope on 11th June.

WHY WE LOST

Lack of sex appeal in the Liberal party was one of the two chief reasons given by ex-Minister John P. Pickers for the party's heavy electoral defeat. The other was election of Parliament.

"It is very plain that if we are to attract young people, we must have a certain degree of sex appeal," he continued, speaking at the Eastern Ontario Young Liberals Association banquet at Pembroke on 14th June.

ADVICE TO THE YOUNG

R. H. "Bob" McGregor, who has represented York East continuously since 1928, holds the record for the longest unbroken membership of the House of Commons at present. With that wealth of experience behind him, Bob kindly gave some advice to the newcomers of his party.

"If you want to know how to conduct yourself in the House," he told those young and new Conservatives, "just study the speeches which I have made in my thirty-two years."

That crack brought the roof down at the banquet given by Conservative M.P.s last week, to honor the first anniversary of the Right Hon. John Diefenbaker being sworn in as Prime Minister of Canada. For M.P.s well know that the popular Bob is not among the loquacious Members of the House. He made just one speech in his first 14 years. I think 17 more years passed before he made his second.

Canada Mine Output Due To Treble

OTTAWA (CP) — Canadian mineral production may more than triple in the next quarter-century but foreign domination of this vital industry will also increase.

So predicts Dr. John Davis, former trade department energy and mining authority, in a 400-page study outlining prospects for the industry as part of a number of surveys made for the Gordon economic commission.

It is its final report issued last April, the commission referred to the industry, cautioning Canada against making "unreasonable demands for increased price changes in Canada of this country's mineral resources."

Foreign customers may look elsewhere for their supplies "if we should be unreasonable in our demands," the commission said. VALUE TO MULTIPLE

Dr. Davis, in his study made public today, estimated that the value of Canada's mineral production would rise to $5,500,000,000 in 1980 from $1,650,000,000 in 1955. This did not include price changes which could enhance 1980 values still further.

By 1980, the mineral industry would make up 33 per cent of Canada's exports compared with 25 per cent in 1955.

But Dr. Davis observed that much of the industry is already under foreign control. About 55 per cent was in foreign hands in 1955. He estimated it would rise to 66 per cent by 1980.

"Meanwhile it appears unlikely that a considerable equity in new mining enterprises will be offered to the Canadian public. Under these circumstances it is difficult to see how ownership and control in the mining industry can shift progressively into Canadian hands."

Foreign ownership, and the fact that many of the major importers, such as the U.S., restrict imports of finished goods through tariffs and other means, drastically reduced prospects of increasing processing in Canada of Canadian minerals.

Cash Awards To School Winners In Poster Contest

WESTBANK—Prize-winners in the centennial day poster contest for school children, were Lisa Ratcliff, whose poster took first prize, and Brian Manderson, second. They received prizes of $2 and $1 respectively, as well as prize-ribbons.

All posters entered in the contest have been displayed in store windows in the district, to publicize the centennial day celebrations planned for this Tuesday.

Brampton Editor Captures Award

"Your newspaper has the challenging responsibility of keeping you informed on all matters affecting your economic, cultural, political and spiritual welfare; to bring you the facts without fear, favour or prejudice," says William E. Doole in an editorial that wins first prize in "The Right of the Public to be Informed" competition for all staff members of the editorial departments of Thomson Newspapers. The editorial appears on page two of Monday's edition of the Daily Courier.

Mr. Doole is editor of The Brampton (Ont.) Conservator and is one of 42 who submitted editorials for the competition. George Grace, managing editor of The Sudbury (Ont.) Daily Star wins second prize.

Freedom of the press is one of our basic freedoms, yet its intent and meaning are often misunderstood. It is for these reasons that Thomson Newspapers named this competition "The Right of the Public to be Informed." Prizes were offered to writers of editorials judged to be the best by a committee of three. The competitors understood that the winning editorial would be offered to all Thomson Newspapers for publication just prior to Dominion Day.

The judges, who were unaware of the identity of the writers, were B. T. Richardson, editor of The Toronto Telegram; Charles Bruce, general superintendent of The Canadian Press and Henry J. Foster, publisher of The Welland Evening Tribune. In addition to the first and second prize winners, honorable mention was given to editorials written by A. Burman, The Daily Sentinel-Review, Woodstock, Ont.; H. G. MacLean, The Samia Observer, Samia, Ont.; and V. Lauriston, The Chatham Daily News, Chatham, Ont.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

TRAFFIC SAFETY

The Editor,
The Daily Courier
Dear Sir:

Gratifying indeed, was the manner in which you recently front-paged an editorial directed at a large Coast city paper. I am not prepared to discuss the attack you voiced against your competitor from Vancouver, but the action did suggest that to be critical of editorial writings was quite in order. That opportunity having been presented, I am availing myself of the privilege to "wrist-slap" the Courier for its feeble attempt to fill the editorial page of June 24th issue.

I refer, of course, to your trade against the traffic committee for installing too many stop signs throughout the city. Well, sir, stop signs are erected in an effort to control drivers who otherwise have little or no regard, or respect, for fellow motorists, pedestrians, or themselves, as is evident daily at almost any intersection throughout the city. Stop signs are just that, and are not intended to be ornamental, or a reminder that speed should be cut from 35 miles per hour to 25. They mean STOP—a full STOP. The suggestion that only busy intersections require stop signs is ridiculous. You can be just as dead at a quiet intersection as on the main thoroughfare. Granted, it might not be as spectacular, but just as lasting.

Your protest (without foundation) that this city will soon be regulated to death is no doubt a typographical error and should read "be regulated or death." However, the prize plum of the article is your reference to someone (you didn't say who) was going to electrically switch you off to bed. A gem of journalism to say the least!

Now, sir, may I continue to the next article on the same editorial page which deals with safety on the water and ends with the advice "This summer—be water wise." Excellent suggestion, but why so careful on the water and little or no protection on the streets? Conditions are improving. You go on to discuss the sleepy driver, a highway menace. How right you are, sir. He's the type of fellow who would doze off and go through a stop sign that really shouldn't have been there in the first place.

I realize the difficulty involved, after many years of "free-wheeling" to suddenly find a community suffering growing pains and with those growing pains come regulations—and more prohibitions. The Courier has grown from a semi-weekly to a daily and can be justly proud of the fact, but it also should grow in its thinking and support of committees and law enforcement along these lines. If only one life is saved the effort is certainly not in vain.

Kelowna will grow and its press must grow with it even if it does mean stopping at seemingly unoccupied intersections and falling in line with advancing and sometimes annoying restrictions.

Your slogan is excellent "If it's for Kelowna, the Courier is for it." Remember?

Yours truly,
A. R. DAVIDSON

(Dear Mr. Davidson: Many thanks for your letter. We thoroughly enjoyed it and the spanking you gave us. It was particularly refreshing as so many during the past few months have verbally expressed opinions contrary to those you hold. However, now that you have found statements, which I was sure were in the article, or remarks which I certainly misconstrued in the first reading.—rpm.)

Northern Spy Is Disappearing

The Northern Spy may be on the way out. And that's a shame . . . an opinion that has no connection with the loss of another "northern" name.

Ontario apple growers, particularly along the shores of Lake Ontario and more specifically Durham and Northumberland counties, have found the Northern Spy to be a very fine apple. Ontario consumers who have had the opportunity to taste and enjoy these fine apples will agree.

The Northern Spy originated in New York State in the early 1800s and it is from this source the word comes that New York State growers are no longer planting the Northern Spy. They have turned to varieties with better keeping and shipping qualities. Silence surrounds the question of taste.

The Financial Post points out that only one other apple has approached the Northern Spy in popularity. This is the McIntosh Red, Canada's greatest contribution to the fruit world. It was a chance discovery by a St. Lawrence Valley farmer who gave his name to it. Within 75 years it became widely planted in the United States, Australia, New Zealand and most Canadian provinces. This is one apple which modern storage methods have made it possible to market from late fall until late spring.

The Northern Spy may go . . . but the memory will linger on.

Canadian Crude Oil Firms Receive Another Stiff Blow

CALGARY (CP)—Still smarting from American oil import restrictions of last year, Canada's crude oil producers have been dealt another blow that will mean a market loss of at least 40,000 barrels a day.

Starting next month, Shell Oil Company is cutting back demands for Canadian crude at its refineries in Wash., refinery. Canadian crude shipped across the Pacific by tanker from Borneo is expected to be substituted.

Whether land-locked Alberta oil will ever regain that market in the near future is uncertain. But the action by Shell will likely have wide repercussions.

MONTREAL PIPELINE

Prime Minister Diefenbaker has already advised the Commission that federal experts are considering a possible oil pipeline to carry Western Canadian oil to the huge Montreal market, currently supplied by imports from Venezuela and the Middle East.

Washington state, where McColl—Frontenac Oil Company Limited's refinery is also reported to be planning cutbacks in the huge Alberta market. It is linked to Edmonton by the Trans-Mountain Pipeline.

Last year exports of crude from Canada dropped to less than 40 per cent of the producing potential in the field. The decline was mainly the result of U.S. import curbs designed to help American producers get rid of inventories caused by the Suez crisis.

The shrinking market sparked a two-pronged demand by producers. One urged the federal government to make strong representations to Washington to have the curbs lifted. The other, supported mostly by smaller independent producers, advocated construction of an Edmonton-Montreal pipeline.

OPPOSED PIPELINE

These were voiced in briefs before the Borden royal commission on energy at its sitting in Calgary in May. Executives of Shell Oil of Canada Limited were strong in their opposition to U.S. import restrictions but equally strong against a pipeline to Montreal.

President W. M. V. Ash of Toronto termed the export decline a temporary recession. The U.S. would again take large quantities of Canadian crude, he suggested, and a pipeline to Montreal was not economically feasible or necessary.

Then he gave his personal assurance Shell's Pacific Northwest refinery would double their take of Alberta crude in June to stimulate the sagging industry. Earlier this week he claimed that was done.

July is a different picture. Shell will stop the flow of 40,000 barrels daily of Alberta crude to American. But voluntary quotas are not the reason.

Simple competition is the key. The principle is one of buying crude wherever it is cheapest. Mr. Ash said Wednesday in Toronto that Shell's parent U.S. Company has decided to take oil from British Borneo or Indonesia because of "better prices" offered and "as a matter of simple economics."

However, the Anacondas case has raised other serious questions including:

1. Will the Canadian government take action to establish new outlets for shut-in prairie crude before "gambling" money for exploration and development is diverted?

2. Since predictions by major international oil companies that U.S. demand would increase have not materialized, will the government and the Borden commission swing in favor of a Montreal pipeline?

3. Will the U.S. government lift restrictions in an effort to keep Canada's petroleum industry healthy for North American defence and productive security?

4. Will Canada in retaliation impose import quotas at Montreal against foreign crude, forcing large refineries including Shell to take what may be more expensive Canadian oil?

THE HIGH HAT LOOK

Tall and handsome hats are terrific with the current clothes line, and the best of the species are those trimly tailored with ribbon. Emma does such a model in grass green

THE DAILY COURIER 3

KATIE KOURIER SAYS

Summer's parching heat; if we must have warm weather in above normal doses, I can't think of a better place to be than in Kelowna. We can pack up food, the children and the dog and take off for one of the many easily accessible beaches, or sit in our own backyard in the shade of our own apple tree. We can do our housework in a bathing suit, and the children can run around in next to nothing all summer. Mine do, and I'm all for it.

Heat ma'am! it was dreadful here, that I found there was nothing left for it but to take off my flesh and sit around in my bones. (Sydney Smith)

Unhuh! School's out. What on earth does one do with the stacks of scribbled, keytabs, battered folders, bent geometry boxes, assorted crayons, pencils, pens, lunch boxes, projects, that come home to roost this time of year? Play safe, and put it all in a carton, and shove it into the basement. Throw it out, and they are bound to want something. A particularly well thought out project, I always keep anyway, for our archives.

For summer reading at the beach, get Marjorie Morningstar in a paper back downtown and take her with you. Marjorie is beautiful, intelligent, and a nice girl except for one slip. The book is entertaining, and has a very interesting background of Jewish family life and customs. It does however, drag on and on, takes an unreal twist, and peters out towards the end. Marjorie herself peters out too. I guess Herman should stick to his ships.

No salesman called at our door hoping to bury our cat, but if you are interested in this subject read Evelyn Waugh's hilarious satire "The Loved One."

The oldest books are only just out to those who have not read them. (Samuel Butler)

Kelowna is getting beautifully housecleaned for the Prince. I had a civic-minded, out-of-town guest visiting me this week; the easy-to-entertain sort of person who likes to do and see everything. Driving around on a gorgeous June day, she asked to see our famous Aquatic. I had to explain, apologetically, that it was still unopened. I drove her around two sides of our beautiful civic centre, carefully avoiding the new cell block, and she was delighted and impressed with what she saw.

Children acquire the most inexplicable moods. The current one is sunflower seeds. Are yours munching and crunching all day long on sunflower seeds, and leaving the hulls all over the house? I presume they are, because what one does they all do. I was about to begin a battle, especially when I began brushing hulls out of the beds, when I happened to read that sunflower seeds are extremely nutritious, in fact they are loaded with vitamins. So, my goodness, let's let them go to it—and of course you won't tell them about the vitamins or they'd go back to bubble gum.

I am becoming very skeptical of the word "progress." In our haste to build things bigger and better, to my mind it is not progress to exchange a traditional thing of beauty and charm that does what it was intended to do adequately and efficiently, for something that is merely larger and can do more things or pack in more people, and is entirely without grace.

Two beautiful small churches, both in the modern trend, have been built in Kelowna recently that reflect the good taste of those who had a hand in their planning.

Discipline in Life—We read the Royal Bank letter too, Mr. Catchpole, and were properly impressed by it, so much so in fact, that Father decided to read it aloud at the supper table. Unfortunately it not only was a hot evening, it was also Friday, the night the youngsters take off from the table with their mouths full, in order to make the first show.

Consequently there was a great deal of squirming as Father, absorbed in his subject (four pages of it) and blissfully unaware of the minor panic around him, read on and on. "Every parent knows that the natural tendency of children is to do what they like"—eyes glanced at me imploringly—"and to avoid doing what they don't like." More squirming. Jackie, darling, be still. "Where parents are sure of their principles"—stop kicking me! I'm not kicking you—"the child will be sure of his parents." Mummy may I let the dog in? Please darling, hush. "Parents need standards" . . . anguished whisper: it's five minutes to seven . . . "children owe duty and loyalty to their parents." Daddy, may I—please darling, be quiet. "Discipline has a happiness value" . . . at last the end. Crash! The door slammed as everyone took off simultaneously.

"A fine article," said Father with satisfaction.

It may be a great part of the richness of our Western culture that we have so many ideas in life subject only to the urge to do what is right and fitting, without compulsion. True civilization may be measured by the extent of this land of obedience to the unenforceable. From Discipline in Life.

Canadian Women's Horizons Ever Expanding - Except In Politics

By CAROLYN WILLET
Canadian Press Staff Writer
OTTAWA (CP) — A national women's organization taking a look at what Canada's women are doing found among many occupations a lighthouse keeper, an auctioneer, a dog handler and an Indian chief.

Women in these jobs are among those listed in a survey compiled by the Canadian Federation of Business and Professional Women.

The off-beat jobs are listed, by provinces, under headings titled "honors and achievements."

The list—fourth compiled by the federation—is published in the current edition of the organization's official magazine The Business and Professional Woman.

"Horizons are widening for Canadian women in almost every sphere of endeavor except politics," states the CFBPW. There are only two women in the 255-seat Commons and only five of the current 96 Senators are women.

High on the list is Mrs. Ellen Fairclough of Hamilton, Ont., Canada's first federal woman cabinet minister, who handles the tough portfolio of citizenship and immigration.

Canada's Bounty Lauded By Visitor

VANCOUVER (CP) — Mrs. Margaret Henderson, Vienna-born British housewife who aided many refugees during the Hungarian revolt in 1956, praised the generosity of Canadians in an interview here.

"Canada has been our most generous contributor of all the Commonwealth countries," she said, "and I was so impressed by their readiness to help in Vienna that I felt I just had to see Canadians in their own country."

Mrs. Henderson, 49, volunteered her services as soon as the revolt broke out. Though she had lived in England 25 years, she collected as much clothing as possible and took her car to Austria.

For several weeks she operated as a single unit, driving along the frontier and picking up stray refugees as they fled through the swamps.

A Hungarian frontier guard's machine-gun put an end to this phase of her work, blowing out the car's front tires, turning the car over and breaking Mrs. Henderson's back in three places.

"I was three months in a plaster cast," she said. "During that time I decided to join the Save the Children Fund in Vienna as soon as I was fit again."

"I help to look after the 2,000 Hungarian children who are still in Vienna. Some have parents, but most have not. They range from infants—for the process of life still goes on there — to 18 years."

"Our biggest need, of course, is money. The children cost $1.50 a day each to feed, house privately, clothe and educate."

Presentation To Departee By Rutland Ladies

RUTLAND — The Women's Federation of the Rutland United Church held their June meeting at the summer cottage of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Geen at Winfield on Wednesday last, in the form of a picnic. There was an attendance of 30 members, and after lunch there was a short business meeting. Mrs. Stanley Beardmore the president, in the chair.

An address was given by Mrs. E. Anderson on "Christian stewardship in the holiday season." A work was done on the interior of the church was organized for early in July, and final plans were made for the rummage sale to be held on August 23 in Kelowna.

Mrs. Quigley reported for the Manse committee, stating that several new furnishings had been purchased. Excerpts from the League of Nations bulletin were read by Mrs. Dan Juad.

Following the business session there was a social hour, and during this Mrs. Beardmore presented Mrs. W. Varrell with a traveling cosmetic kit, as a parting gift from the Federation members. Mrs. Varrell leaves shortly for Edmonton, and then will move on to Flin Flon, Manitoba, where she will make her home. There will be no further meetings of the Federation until September.

Miss Joan Hildred of Seattle was a recent visitor to the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. Hildred. Miss Hildred came by car, and brought with her two friends, Miss Phyllis Bognane of Seattle, and Miss Flo Pertsma of New Westminster. While here they attended the Miller-Gowan wedding in Kelowna.

Mrs. A. Goodacre of Vancouver who has been visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Richard, left on Thursday for Kamloops where she will visit friends, while enroute to her home at the coast.

Recent visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. Burnell have been Mr. and Mrs. Victor Wouters, of Unity, Sask. They were former neighbors of the Burnells when the latter resided in Saskatchewan.

Mr. and Mrs. Angus Greig and family were visitors to the coast during the past week.

The Rutland Park Society held a dance on the outdoor dance floor on Friday evening last, and a pleasant evening resulted. The dance was not a financial success, the 10 per cent amusement tax eating up the small surplus.

The Central Circle of the Rutland WFL held their final meeting of the season in the Church basement hall on Monday evening. Plans for raising funds for the fall season were discussed, and the meeting also approved the purchase of a six dozen souvenir brooches with a picture of the local church. These will be resold and the profit would go to aid the United church funds. Refreshments were served at the close by Mrs. Max Day.

Shower Honors Glenmore Teacher Louise Hecko

GLENMORE — Honoring bride-elect Miss Louise Hecko, whose marriage takes place this evening to Robert John Munro, a miscellaneous shower was held on Wednesday, June 18 at the home of Mrs. W. F. Morton when 25 friends and neighbours gathered to present their gifts and good wishes to the guest of honour.

The gifts were presented in a cleverly constructed replica of the Glenmore School where Miss Hecko has been a teacher. Mrs. W. Hecko, mother of the bride-elect assisted in untying the gifts. Mrs. K. Munro, mother of the groom-elect was also a guest. During the evening the guests made up a "bride's book" which was later presented to the bride.

Refreshments were served from a beautifully appointed table at which Mrs. A. Burch and Mrs. Fred Coe presided.

Mr. and Mrs. I. Newman, arrived on Wednesday, June 25, from Calgary where they have resided for the past four years. They plan to take up residence in Kelowna. Mr. Newman is the son of Mr. and Mrs. I. J. Newman of Glenora and Mrs. Newman is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Farrow, of Kelowna.

WINFIELD

WINFIELD — The home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Konig, Okanagan Centre Rd., was the scene of a successful garden party held Wednesday afternoon and sponsored by the three branches of St. Margaret's Guild.

Vases of sweet peas and baby's breath decorated each table and added a festive air, old fashioned costumes in keeping with the Centennial theme were worn by some of the stall holders and servers and the highlight of the afternoon was the arrival of two carloads of ladies from Okanagan Mission. Their centennial costumes were much admired and appreciated by those present.

Mrs. R. Cheeseman and Mrs. W. Fowley were kept busy at the home cooking stall, and Mrs. E. Crowder and Mrs. B. Baker presided over the needlework stall laden with a variety of articles. Miss Norma-Jean Hitchman was popular with the children as she was in charge of the bran tub. Mrs. J. Chisholm was serving strawberries and ice cream and Mrs. S. Land was in charge of the games of bean bags.

Approximately $120 was raised and with the co-operation of the weather, a very enjoyable afternoon was had by all.

Mr. and Mrs. A. McGarvie and their daughter, Mrs. Gilbert Berry, have returned home from a month's vacation motoring to LaSalle, Ill., where they visited with friends.

Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Scarrow have returned from a trip east. They visited friends and relatives in Leimess, Sask. and Ninette, Man.

Congratulations of the district go out to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Baxter on the birth of a son.

Age Cannot Wither The Young In Heart

KITCHENER, Ont. (CP)—Max Lyman, 94, and his wife Annie, who says she is "approximately 78," left Vancouver in April for a train trip through Canada and the United States.

The couple thrive on travel. They called at Kitchener to visit a son and to report on one grandchild's wedding in Montreal, and another in Los Angeles, and a housewarming given by another son in Moose Jaw.

The couple have been married 56 years and have 14 children living in various parts of North America. They also have 24 grandchildren and 22 great-grandchildren.

The Lymans came from Austria in 1910, lived in Brampton, Ont., spent nearly 40 years in Regina and for the last nine years have lived in Vancouver.

Lyman says raising a large family and strict Jewish orthodoxy have kept him and his wife youthful.

CHILDREN'S ZOO

WHIPPSNADE, England (CP)—Two wolf cubs which have been running in an enclosure with a pack of Canadian timber wolves have been caught by keepers at the zoo here. They hope to tame the cubs and put them in the children's section.

NEW SWIM STYLE

By TRACY ADRIAN
The new silhouettes have gotten right on the beach this summer in both play clothes and bathing suits. The outfit pictured today we thought was a particularly smart and wearable version of the new lines. It is a cotton knit sun and swim suit that features a shirt with a rounded neckline and a long torso look. Beneath are matching shorts. Both are in an abstract black and white check.

Successful Marriage Requires Work On Part Of Both Partners

By GARRY CLEVELAND MYERS, Ph.D.

Having been married for a good many years to the same person, I venture to offer some advice to the young June bride and groom.

I hope that you have both been resolving in your own mind and heart to make your marriage permanent and that you strive to make good your public vow "until death do us part."

You are bright enough to know that both of you will have to exert considerable personal effort to assure this permanence and make your life together companionable and happy in the years to come.

CAN'T DO IT ALONE

No matter how hard you try, one alone can't quite attain these objectives.

Let me be a bit old-fashioned and emphasize the importance of moral integrity and unselfishness in marriage. You need always to believe in each other and be able to trust each other. Every act or utterance of deceit toward your spouse will endanger your mutual happiness.

By nature, we human beings are all inclined to be self-centered. The more self-centered either of you is, the less you will contribute to the happiness of your spouse. Perhaps there's nothing the bride or groom should work harder at than being unselfish toward his or her spouse.

Attack this positively. Set as

ON A HIGH PLANE

Strive to keep the niceties of social graces toward each other on as high plane as you did in your courtship days.

From the beginning, work out together how you are going to spend the family income, whether one or both of you will be employed. Resolve now that when disagreements arise, neither will try to have the last word.

Warning: When either of you discovers in the other some ways and traits you dislike, resolve not to discuss them with any relative or friend.

A long and happy life together!

ANSWERING PARENTS' QUESTIONS

Q. How can we train our son, 4, to play with his toys only in his own room?

A. You can't do this if he is a normal child and is to get the most fun out of his playthings. He likes to play where he can see and hear you and where you can see what he is doing and hear him talk.

Rutland Girl Will Be Wed On July 19

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Delbert Barber of Rutland, to announce the wedding of their eldest daughter Mavis Kathleen, to Mr. Daniel Ronald Uhl, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Uhl, Kelowna.

The wedding will take place Saturday, July 19, at 11 a.m. at the Church of the Immaculate Conception.

Earthly Advice Advocated For The Altar-Bound

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Thorough pre-marital physical examinations are some earthly instructions about sex were advocated Thursday by a San Francisco gynecologist.

The sex counselling should come from a qualified practitioner and be tailored to fit the individual, Dr. Paul Scholten told the 10th annual convention of the American Medical Association.

He advised doctors to make it clear to young couples that women are not aroused sexually as quickly as men and that the average woman will be satisfied with about half as much sexual activity as the average man.

Women should be urged to retain their daintiness and care in their personal care of themselves, he said, but should be able to talk about sex frankly with their husbands.

"I consider it important to point out," he added, "that there is no absolute line of normality and abnormality in regard to the sex act. Anything that gives mutual satisfaction to both parties is normal."

SPORTLIGHT

Baseball Heads Weekend Bill Of Sporting Action

By GEORGE INGLIS
(Courier Sports Editor)

This protracted long weekend, in honor of Dominion Day, will be bulging with sporting activities—of the more strenuous nature.

In addition to the quiet pursuit of leisure through pleasure, often seen through the bottom of a glass, darkly, there will be track and field events, lawn bowling, softball, baseball, and even a touch of rhythmic swimming.

Biggest attraction, by virtue of drawing-power, preparation, and hours of spectator-pleasure is the Centennial Baseball Tournament, by far. Really the third annual ball tourney, dressed up and offering twice as much cash and some pleasant frills, the eight-team tangle should rate high in the year's sports activities.

Today's big event, of course, is the annual interior track meet, which should certainly provide a measure of local thrills, particularly the race between the Orchard City's own Jerry Jantz and a couple of speedy Oleman brothers from the coast. Jerry presently holds the best time for a high school mile set this year, 50.4, and Klaus is the Oleman brother who led him most of the way around in the 440 at the Centennial meet in Vancouver, until he came through with a last-minute surge of power. Brother Sig, however, is a BEG finalist this year, and has run it in 49.9 in trials.

There is a heavy entry among the girls, in the juvenile and mid-range classes, since these two classes will both be for Canadian championships, with records to count.

Vernon's young Sally McCallum, the blonde gamine with the all-round sports ability, will be facing up against Heather Campbell in the 60 and 100 yd. sprints, juvenile class. Heather is no slouch, just a shade behind Freyda Berman in the recent BEG trials.

Lucy Culos will have a tough opponent in Kathleen Chubb in the mid-range class. Kathleen is rated one of the best, and looked to for a record or two.

Kelowna will also have Lucy, Gail Fillmore, Lorna McLeod and Joyce Terai in the mid-range 440 relay, the 15 and under class.

Why don't you drop down and have a look at them?

TUNED-UP BALL HAWKS

Tomorrow afternoon at 1:30, the Orioles-hosted ball tournament will get under way with a minor burst of fanfare, and a major burst of baseball.

Some people will need no second bidding to get down there to the park for one or all of the eight ball games that will take place in the next three days. They are the people who starved for baseball in this town for the larger part of a decade, until the Orioles were re-born.

No doubt the rest of the populace, if they stop to think about the titanic task of the ball club in bringing this tournament, will give the boys their support also. In doing so, they will treat themselves to some pretty skookum ball.

These clubs that have entered this year know the calibre of ball to expect here. As the coach from Almar, Wash. expressed it, this calibre is higher than he had anticipated. This year it will be even higher than last year, also, since there are a few charged ball clubs who came, saw, and were concerned last year, due to under-rating the opposition.

As the result of the last two years' operation, the tourney has grown in stature among ball players in the interior of B.C. and the state of Washington as something worthy of consideration in the annual sports calendar. It has attained a stature that commands respect—of the kind that makes ball clubs load up with talent before they make an appearance.

No doubt the Oliver OBCs, winners of the booty last year, and defenders of the Bennett Trophy in this year's show, will be strong—they'll have to be. The Orioles, runners-up last year, and six other teams have ideas about knocking the spots off them.

The result should be good baseball, Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, with two games on Sunday and Monday and four money games on Tuesday.

It should be a gourmet's delight.

ADDED BILL OF FARE

Down in the park, there will be a congregation of over 100 lawn bowlers, vying for the interior championships in ten events.

Now, while this sport is not guaranteed to make the pulses of the jive set gallop, or fill the middle-aged veins with pounding adrenaline, it is a wonderfully congenial sport for those in the twilight years, and the fun they get out of participating is a joy to behold. It's a lesson in relaxed living.

In the Ogopogo Pool this Sunday, a number of young hopefuls who would like to take their part in making the annual Regatta even bigger than that, will show to enroll for the rhythmic swimming group, under instructress Joan McKinley.

And just after the weekend's over, the Summer Figure Skating School, another unique venture to be staged in the Orchard City, by Mrs. Jean Ross Beaton, will get under way.

Add to that all the fishin', loafin', relaxin', and you've got a man-sized diet of fun in the sun (?).

HOCKEY MEET SITE CHANGED AGENDA REMAINS THE SAME

The site of the Packers' annual general hockey meeting, slated for Friday, July 4, has been changed to the Canadian Legion hall, instead of the Aquatic lounge, as announced yesterday.

Agenda of the meeting will include the election of officers for the 1958-59 season, and the discussion of plans for sending the hockey club abroad on the tour of Russia in November.

All interested persons are invited to attend the meeting of the community-owned, senior "A" hockey club, Allan Cup finalists this year.

Rain And More Rain Hampers Net Tourney

WIMBLEDON, England (AP)—Every cloud in the sky now frightens the promoters of the Wimbledon tennis championships.

Never before, oldtimers say, has so much rain fallen on tennis' little green acre. Never before have so many tennis players been so mud-spattered and water-logged.

The fans—club players, school girls and businessmen sneaking an afternoon from the office—have been patient. They will pay their money at the gate and stand around in the rain for hours in the hopes of seeing some play. There are no raincheques with the tickets here.

WAY OFF SCHEDULE

The tournament is in great need of sun. It is running about 40 matches behind schedule.

Only two of 46 matches were completed Friday. It was even too wet for the Duchess of Kent, a Neale Fraser, a left-handed Australian, defeated Antonio Maggi of Italy 6-0, 6-4, 6-3 in a match which saw both players falling all over the court.

Roughies To Try Five At QB Spot

REGINA (CP)—Saskatchewan Roughriders announced Thursday the purchase of quarterback Gino Cappiellotti from Winnipeg Blue Bombers of the Western Interprovincial Football Union.

Cappiellotti will be vying with four others for the regular quarterbacking job when the club training camp opens Monday. The others are Frank Tripucka, Frank Hall, Vince Drake, and Jerry Welch.

Team manager Ken Preston also announced the signing of holdovers Bobby Marlow and Freddie Hamilton, and newcomer Len Thibault, a young end from Winnipeg.

REGINA (CP)—Two new imports and holdover tackle Len Legault have signed tryout contracts with Saskatchewan Roughriders of the Western Interprovincial Football Union, team manager Ken Preston announced Friday.

The newcomers are guard Mel Searcy from Northwestern University and tackle Wayne Haensel from South Dakota State.

Searcy, 25, played with the Bowling Air Force team for the last two years. The six-foot one, 220-pounder, graduated from Northwestern in 1955.

Haensel, 21, was co-captain of the South Dakota State last year. He is six foot one inch and weighs 225.

U.S. Golf Champ Fined For Unsavory Conduct

EAST NORWICH, N.Y. (AP)—Tommy Bolt, the United States Open golf champion, is finding the crown rests heavy on his fevered brow.

Charges of abusive language and general unsavory conduct since his recent victory prompted Harold Sargent, president of the U.S. Professional Golfers Association, to impose a $500 fine on the erratic titleholder.

In a statement issued Friday after Bolt picked up at the end of nine holes of the $50,000 Long Island Open tournament, Harvey Raynor, PGA tournament supervisor, said Bolt's case will be reviewed further by a PGA executive committee July 17-20.

He added: "Mr. Bolt has been on probation since Dec. 30 by order of the executive committee and his conduct lately has been in violation of the PGA code of ethics, especially with reference to actions detrimental to sponsors, members of the PGA field staff and other PGA members."

Meanwhile, Masters champion Arnold Palmer held a three-stroke lead after two rounds. He fired a 69 Friday to go with his first-round 66 for 135.

Jimmy Demaret was second with a 71-67—138, followed by George Bernard, Henry Ransom and Don Fairfield, each with a 139. Ted Kroll and Jay Hebert were deadlocked for sixth with 140s.

BALDING AT 144
Al Balding of Toronto led the Canadian contingent with 73-71—144.

Stan Leonard of Vancouver had 73-72—145. He was shooting for birdies on the first 12 holes but sank only one of them.

Jerry Magee, Toronto, improved his showing with 73-71—150. Bill Ednicki, former National Hockey League player from Winnipeg who now golfs out of Stoneham, Mass., carded 80-76—156.

Track Officials Perturbed By State Of Track, Weather

Slightly perturbed about the weather possibilities and the track, Orchard City track officials face the Ninth Annual Interior Track and Field meet, with a total of 132 athletes entered.

Heaviest entries this year have been in the juvenile and mid-range women's championships, since these two classes are to be recognized as AAU championships, with any records established to be recorded as such.

One of the highlight races of the meet should be the 440, between the Oleman brothers of Vancouver, Sig and Klaus, and Kelowna's Jerry Jantz. Jantz won the high school section of the Centennial Meet in Vancouver, 440, in a race which saw him come from behind to overhail and beat Klaus Oleman. Sig, a BEG finalist, has run the distance in 49.9, a half second better than Jantz's fastest time.

TOUGH COMPETITOR
Heather Campbell of VOC, the girl who was just a shade behind Freyda Berman in the BEG trials, will be one of the tough competitors in the girls' juvenile class. She will face Sally McCallum of Vernon, considered one of the interior's best girl athletes, in the 60 and 100 yd. sprints.

Lucy Culos, Kelowna girl who won a runner-up in the 60 yd. open at the recent meet in Vancouver, a highly-rated gal athlete who is looked to for some record-breaking performances in the mid-range class.

Dick Miller of Oregon State, 4.15 for the mile and Glen Ferguson of Vancouver, Canada's second best collegiate mile with 4:24.8, will provide the stiffest competition in the miracle event.

Al Andrews of Vancouver, Canadian high school record holder for the half mile with 1:56, will be one of the big guns in his event.

Shirley Griffiths of Kelowna will be one of the entries in the discus event.

YANKEES PAD LEAD
Meanwhile New York Yankees drubbed second place Kansas City 10-3 and padded their American League lead to 8½ games. Detroit broke a third-place tie with Boston by beating the Red Sox 7-4 and Cleveland gave new manager Joe Gordon a 7-4 victory over Baltimore.

Three isolated hits stretched over eight years—yet each was all that stood between southpaw Billy Pierce and a no-hitter. And FitzGerald's was the toughest yet, punctuating a perfect pitching performance by the Chicago White Sox veteran after 8-2-3 innings.

Mohawks, Chiefs Drop From IHL

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Cincinnati Mohawks and Indianapolis Chiefs have been granted a one-year suspension of participation in the International Hockey League by the board of governors.

Troy, Ohio, dropped out of the league recently, but at Friday's meeting, it was expressed that city might return as a member.

The three teams remaining from last season—Toledo, Fort Wayne and Louisville—are going to try arrangements interlocking their abbreviated schedule with the Eastern League schedule during the coming season.

The one-year suspension requests made by Cincinnati and Indianapolis were both due to difficulties in concluding arrangements with home rinks for next winter's play.

COMPARES RUSSIAN-CANADIAN TEXTBOOKS

Have Canadian students write examination papers given to Russian students of the same age and the Canadian students wouldn't know what the questions were all about. That's the opinion of Tony Frisch, science teacher of New Toronto, who has examined Russian text books. "We are doing an excellent job of preparing students to be good wage-earners, wives and husbands, but the Russians are away ahead of us in science and maths teaching," says Mr. Frisch, who is preparing a report to show relationship between the Canadian school curricula with that of the Russians.

BAR ASSOCIATION TOLD:

Freedoms Maintained In Local Courts Of Justice

PENTICTON (CP)—Chief Justice Sherwood Lett reminded B.C.'s lawyers here of their role in helping preserve the freedom of the people.

Speaking here at the annual dinner of the B.C. branch of the Canadian Bar Association, the head of the B.C. Supreme Court said:

"There is a heavy responsibility today upon men with trained minds, alert to encroachment on the freedom of citizens, and skilled in the recognition of propaganda and its corrosive effect on liberties; minds keen and

He said freedom is not maintained at international conferences but in local courts of justice. It was in the situations of everyday life that "our kind of freedom will be kept alive in the hearts and minds of our people."

Referring to the centenary of B.C. the chief justice said pioneers had laid the foundations for a great future. The province was still in its infancy but had tremendous physical assets and all other resources constituting the basis of great economic prosperity.

NOT LITTLE MINDS

"We should be well aware at this time in the history of our province to see that the great empire of B.C. does not suffer the limitations and the retarding restrictions of what Edmund Burke called 'little minds'."

He told the 180 lawyers from all parts of the province: "We are not little minds. We are custodians of British justice, the upholders of the rule of law."

Gordon Bailey Shrum of Vancouver received the law society's Gold Medal as outstanding student in the law faculty at the University of B.C. He is the son of Dr. Gordon Shrum, dean of graduate studies at the university who also attended the banquet.

Horace Keetch Promoted To UIC Director

VANCOUVER — The appointment of Horace Keetch, manager of the Vancouver National Employment office, as regional director, Unemployment Insurance Commission, Pacific region, has been announced by J. G. Bisson, chief commissioner, Ottawa.

The appointment is effective today. He succeeds Wm. McKinstry who retired Friday.

Mr. Keetch joined the commission in October, 1941, and in April, 1943, was promoted to the management of the Vancouver local office, succeeding Mr. McKinstry who had been promoted to regional superintendent.

Born and educated in England, Mr. Keetch served in France and Belgium during the First World War with the 15th London Regiment and was wounded twice.

Since coming to Vancouver in 1930 he has been actively interested in community welfare work. He is a director of the John Howard Society, the B.C. Borstal Association, and Youth Counselling Society of British Columbia. He is also a member of the Vancouver Rotary Club.

B.C. BRIEFS

SUMMERLAND (IP) — Irvine Adams, 45-year-old Summerland logger, has had two paintings accepted for exhibition in the spring show of the Salon in Paris. Mr. Adams, a landscape artist, won international awards at Florida in 1951 and New York in 1955.

VANCOUVER (CP) — Police said a young woman is in a state of shock in hospital here today after being viciously assaulted in Stanley Park. They said she was unconscious when found by park policemen and had apparently been sexually abused.

VANCOUVER (CP) — Appointment of H. Frank Bird as executive vice-president of the 75,000-member B.C. Automobile Association was announced today. Mr. Bird has been secretary-manager of the association for 20 years, ending giving up politics.

THE WEEK'S NEWS

Lebanon Highlights International scene

By DAVID ROWNTREE
Canadian Press Staff Writer

It was touch and go whether Lebanon's government would see the week out.

For the second time the republic on the eastern shore of the Mediterranean appealed for United Nations help in sealing off its borders with Syria. Russia renewed its threat of vetoing any Security Council move to turn the present observer team there into a police force.

Fighting continued in Beirut, the capital, and Tripoli, the seaport seat of the uprising against President Camille Chamoun and Premier Sami el Solh early last month.

Chamoun forecast a big rebel push that could topple his government, friendly to the West, and pave the way for groups allied to President Nasser of the United Arab Republic to take over.

NEW PUZZLE

A meeting has been scheduled for Geneva next Tuesday to discuss ways of policing a ban on nuclear weapons tests. Dr. O. M. Salandit, former chairman of the Defence Research Board, is to represent Canada.

In a surprise move this week, the Russian threatened to boycott the meeting. The Russians said they had assumed the talks would result in an agreement to suspend all nuclear tests.

The Western countries are not prepared to go this far. Britain and France want to increase their importance as nuclear powers and say testing is necessary to chart progress. The United States position is that the Geneva meeting should first work out an inspection system so that any test ban agreed on later could be supervised.

MANITOBA CHANGE

Duff Roblin, riding the tide of Tory popularity, agreed to form a Progressive Conservative government in Manitoba.

D. L. Campbell and his Liberal-Progressive cabinet stepped aside after a week of political speculation following the general election of June 16.

The Conservatives, with 26 seats, emerged as the largest party but fell short of a majority in the 57-seat legislature. The Campbell forces had 34 seats before the election and only 19 after. The CCF, with 11 seats, holds the balance of power.

TROUBLED WATERS

The British Columbia government is in the shipping business. Both union and management agreed to let the province take over Black Ball Ferries Limited and thereby head off a seamen's strike.

The decision, taken under the Provincial Civil Defence Act, meant that residents of Vancouver Island would still have a shipping link with the mainland. The CPR's coast ferry service has been tied up by a strike.

TRAGIC RECORD

A U.S. jet tanker plane set a transatlantic flight record from New York to London of five hours 22 minutes, 29.68 seconds for an average speed of about 644 miles an hour. This was nearly an hour faster than the record of an RAF Canberra jet in 1955.

The American plane was one of four that planned a mass assault on the record.

One of the planes crashed and exploded seconds after taking off from a base in Massachusetts. All its 15 occupants were killed.

In Brazil, more than 100 persons died and 400 were injured in two fireworks explosions. The biggest casualty toll was in a religious festival. Others died and were maimed in a fireworks factory accident.

STILL HOT SPOT

Sherman Adams, chief assistant to President Eisenhower, was still in scolding political water.

As demands continued that he be fired or resign, John Fox, a former Boston newspaper publisher, charged that Adams once promised to help industrialist Bernard Goldfine when he was in difficulty with a federal agency.

Fox also said Adams had an interest in some of Goldfine's textile mills. The wealthy businessman gave Adams gifts of an expensive coat and rug and paid hotel bills for him.

NO GARDEN PARTIES

This week the West German Embassy in Moscow was pelted with stones, bricks and bottles of ink. This was in retaliation against a similar demonstration in Bonn led by Hungarian refugees who protested the executions of former premier Imre Nagy and other leaders of the 1956 revolt.

A crowd of 1,000 Russians also demonstrated against the U.S. Embassy in Moscow but refrained from violence. Extra guards were assigned to the Canadian Embassy.

REVOLT PETERS OUT

The Indonesian revolt, started in mid-February as a protest against President Sukarno's friendliness with Communists and the country's critical economic condition, appears to have been crushed.

The government announced the capture of Menado, capital of the North Celebes, the last rebel stronghold.

RENEWED SUCCESS

Stratford, Ont., opened its sixth Shakespearean festival with Henry IV, Part One and Much Ado About Nothing.

Although the reception to Henry was on the reserved side, the second production won wide acclaim. One of the finest achievements of the Canadian Shakespeare Festival theatre," said Brooks Atkinson, critic for the New York Times.

CHINA TRADE

James Muir, chairman and president of the Royal Bank of Canada, returned from a visit to Red China and urged Canadian companies to do business with the Communists.

Really strategic materials Muir said, should not be traded but there is still plenty of business to be done. Canadian companies that stick to terms and delivery dates are unlikely to have trouble trading with the Chinese.

PRIME MINISTER'S HOME SHATTERED

This is a view of the shattered home of Lebanese Prime Minister Eami Solh in Beirut. The house was partially destroyed by rebel bombs during the street fighting in the Lebanese capital. U.N. observers, after spending several days in Lebanon, hope that the presence of U.N. troops will result in the restoration of order.

APPRECIATES WOMEN

NEWPORT, Wales (CP)—Percy Jones, 58-year-old High Sheriff of Monmouthshire, gave his first official luncheon here for women only. It was his own idea "to express the honor and appreciation the community owes its women.

The famous town hall at The Hague, capital of The Netherlands, was built in 1565.

Water Supply Ample Though Sales Highest

By Special Courier Correspondent
VERNON — Vernon Irrigation District has an ample water supply, although the canal is running to capacity. The VID expected to sell 1,000 acre feet this week.

Abderdeen Lake, one of the district's storage lakes, was opened June 22. Flood water was used until May 26. The VID has sold more water this year than in any season for a comparable period, since 1946.

All tree fruits in the Vernon, Oryama, Winfield and Okanagan Centre areas are sizing exceptionally well, according to the department of agriculture. All orchards are irrigated. Strawberries in the Vernon and Armstrong areas are being harvested, most of which are being sold locally.

The spinach harvest is completed, and canned at the local cannery. Quality and quantity were excellent, department spokesmen said.

Cabbage is being shipped in volume from the Vernon area.

This week's rain was welcomed by farmers in non-irrigated areas, who had begun to fear for their crop yields. Wheat, and other crops were in jeopardy, including 2,000 acres of peas for drying purposes, and 20 acres of dried beans.

Field tomatoes are making good growth, with earlier plantings having their second fruit clusters well formed.

Safety Contest Winners Named

WESTBANK — At an assembly at George Pringle High School, prizes of $10 each were awarded to grade nine students Roxanna Sherwin and Grace Kramer, for their entries in a safety contest sponsored by the district inspectors of the Workmen's Compensation Board.

The contest awarded prizes in two classes. The first, an essay to be entitled "What is the Purpose of Safety Week?", was won by Grace. Roxanna received her award for her entry in the poster contest, which also had as its theme the importance of safety week. The contest was open to all grade nine students in Central B.C., and cash prizes of $10 were awarded to winners in each school.

Locally, the prizes were donated by Troutman and Garroway mill at Peachland, and Gorman Bros. mill at Westbank.

Cooler Weather Decreases Hazard

Cool weather has decreased the forest fire hazard considerably, according to forest ranger Bert Hewlett.

While there are no fires burning at the present time in the Kelowna area, suppression crews are on the alert. To date there have been 12 small fires in the area, none of which caused much loss.

THE ONE TRUE NATIONAL ADVERTISING MEDIUM

IS

THE DAILY NEWSPAPER... because

Canada's 4,000,000 families buy 3,940,000 daily newspapers every day. That's national coverage. Every one of these millions of readers has the opportunity to see every advertisement in the newspaper. Only a few of these people can be reached by any radio, television or magazine message.

That's why national product advertisers invest more of their advertising money in the daily newspapers of Canada than in any other medium.

Unlike television and radio, newspaper advertising is always ready and waiting to suit the time, place and convenience of the consumer. The newspaper is always selling—and always selling more people than any other medium.

If you want to sell more products to more people, use the daily newspaper—the one medium that reaches just about everybody.

If you want to sell more, recommend that the manufacturers of the products you sell support your local selling efforts by placing their national advertising in the daily newspaper—the one true national advertising medium.

The bidding:

Opening lead—king of clubs.

If you could see your partner's cards, bidding problems would practically disappear. In the same way, if you could see the defender's cards, the question of how to play a hand would be that much simpler.

Since the opponents will seldom be kind enough to show you their hands, your job as declarer is to learn as much as possible about how their cards are constituted, and play accordingly.

West took the K-Q of clubs, East playing the 2-8, and shifted to the two of spades. Declarer ducked in dummy and East won with the king and returned the three of spades.

South needed the rest of the tricks and was faced with a possible loser in each red suit. The diamond loser would depend on whether East had the king, but the trump loser might be controlled by guessing the trump situation.

Since East had not played high-low on the two club leads, it seemed reasonable to suppose he had started with precisely three clubs. It also seemed likely from West's play of his apparently fourth best spade, and East's return of his fourth best spade, that spades were divided 4-4.

The diamond finesse would have to be taken in any case, but whether a trump finesse or a play for the drop of the queen would be required was uncertain. Declarer decided to delay the trump decision until more information could be gathered. He overtook the spade queen with the ace and led a diamond and finessed.

Having passed the first hurdle, he cashed the ace of hearts, then the ace of diamonds, and ruffed a diamond, East's king falling.

Now he led a trump from dummy, and when East played low, the crucial decision was at hand.

The indications were that East had started with four spades, three diamonds (since the king fell), and three clubs. If these assumptions were correct, East became marked with an original holding of three hearts.

So declarer finessed and made the contract as a result of his well-reasoned analysis.

Kootenay Boxla Buckles Under To Indifference

TRAIL (CP)—The West Kootenay Lacrosse League acting like a groggy fighter since the opening of its season appears to have gone down for the final count Thursday.

Manager Tony Paolone announced Thursday that the Trail Golden Bears, once a stronghold of lacrosse in this area, were folding.

Reason for folding given by Paolone was the lack of player interest among Trail personnel. The club has been bolstered throughout the season by six players from Nelson who played for the Nelson Kookanecs before it folded early this spring.

Only two clubs now remain of the once four-team loop. The Rossland Redmen, the only Senior B entry, and the Rossland Trail Centennials, Minto Cup hopefuls from this area.

It is expected that Rossland will pick up several key players from the folded Trail club for the Provincial Senior B playoffs.

HEALTH COLUMN

Human Reaction To TB Has Wide Variations

By Herman N. Bumsden, M.D.
Statistics aren't just a bunch of confusing figures. Translate statistics into human beings and you know an awful lot about a lot of people.

Let's just take one disease, tuberculosis. Statistics tell us that the tall, lanky, and underweight individual is more likely to develop TB than a person who is short, stocky and overweight.

REACTION TO TEST
Moreover, if he reacts strongly to a tuberculin test, he is five times more likely to develop the disease than a person who has a negative test.

If a young child comes down with TB, chances often are that he caught it from his mother or father. These days, however, he probably will develop a milder form of the disease than in previous years.

As for adult TB victims, statistics tell us that we probably will have more trouble getting elderly bachelors to agree to surgery than with most other patients.

THEY'RE APPREHENSIVE
We suspect this is because older men are more fearful of operation. They probably believe that persons their age present a greater surgical risk than do younger patients.

Also, older patients probably live more for the present or immediate future, or yearn for the "good old days" of the past. More youthful patients, on the other hand, are more apt to think further ahead and to plan for life in the future.

What about women?
Well, statistics tell a story there, too. We know, for example, that women generally fare better than men do after removal of an entire lung.

In a recent report on a study at Seattle, Washington, some 27 per cent of the men who had the radical operation died. The fatality rate for women was only 11 per cent.

LESS RESTRICTED
Women also suffered less restriction in physical activity following removal of the lung, with only two per cent reporting their activity restricted, as compared with 12 per cent of the male patients.

Now here is one place where statistics can be misleading. I don't mean to imply that 27 per cent of the men who have lungs removed are doomed to die as a result of the operation.

Nor do I mean that the national average of men whose activity will be restricted following such surgery amounts to 12 per cent.

This study concerned only 204 patients. We can't apply the figures to national averages. But statistics do give us an indication. They do tell an important story.

QUESTION AND ANSWER
J.D.: How can I prevent recurrent attacks of kidney stones?

Answer: The most common type of kidney stones are caused, in some cases, by urine that is too alkaline. Sometimes the giving of a drug known as ammonium chloride to acidify the urine will prevent the formation of kidney stones.

Recently, it has been shown that the use of a drug known as hyaluronidase, given under the direction of a physician at frequent intervals, may also prevent the formation of kidney stones.

YOUR HOROSCOPE

By ESTRELLITA

FOR TOMORROW

This day's planetary influences are more auspicious for personal matters than for business affairs. Put forth your best efforts in all activities, however, and you can have a satisfactory day. Vibrations during the evening hours encourage new friendships.

FOR THE BIRTHDAY

If tomorrow is your birthday, your horoscope indicates fine prospects where your personal life is concerned. The aspects favor harmonious domestic relationships, a stimulating social life and great romantic happiness—especially in September.

Where financial matters are concerned, you may experience some "ups and downs" but, if you take them in stride and keep plugging, you should wind up the year on the credit side of the ledger. This should not be too difficult, since thrift and resourcefulness are included among your many fine traits. In job matters, put forth your best efforts and show a willingness to do more than your share—especially between now and late October. Generous rewards are indicated.

A child born on this day will be affectionate, industrious and endowed with an exceptionally retentive memory.

THE DAY AFTER TOMORROW

There may be some deceptive influences on Monday, both in business and personal matters. Use good judgement, therefore, and sidestep smooth talkers. Don't you make rash promises, either.

FOR THE BIRTHDAY

If Monday is your birthday, your horoscope indicates that you may have to work hard to succeed and make occasional revisions in your budget during the next year, but the rewards will be well worth the effort. Good opportunities for both job and financial gain are indicated during the next four months, but this period will be followed by a somewhat "dull" cycle, so be realistic. Plan ahead and not only conserve assets, but work out a consistent program for steady occupational progress. Don't expect "showy" attainments after the 1st of November.

Romantic and social affairs should prove interesting during August and September, but be careful not to cause dissension within the family circle during November. Guard health in December.

A child born on this day will be quiet and reserved, but inclined toward extreme jealousy at times.

THREE VYING FOR NEW CANUCK MEDAL

VERNON — Three entries have been received so far for the "Miss Vernon" contest which closes at the end of next week.

Chairman of the contest, sponsored by the Vernon Board of Trade, said judging will be in the Capital theatre by audience vote, as a date to be announced later.

The winner also will be declared "Miss Centennial" and will represent Vernon in the Pacific National Exhibition beauty contest to pick a "Miss PNE."

Contestants must be between 17 and 22 years of age.

Rural Refuse Dump Wanted

WINFIELD — A meeting of the Winfield-Okanagan Centre local of the BCFGA was held in the Memorial Hall, with 12 members present and the president, Mel Kawano, in the chair. In the absence through illness of Secretary Alice Green, his brother, Jack Green, as acting secretary.

In place of a report from the governors of B.C. Tree Fruits Ltd., George Whittaker invited questions from the members present.

Nigel Taylor gave the report for the executive of the BCFGA. At a previous meeting the executive was asked to lend its support to obtaining garbage dumps for rural areas.

Mr. Taylor read a letter from Mr. Walls, secretary-manager of the B.C. Federation of Agriculture, which stated the provincial government will assist in the setting up of such dumps by granting land where applicable.

Westbank Decides On New Fire Truck

WESTBANK — A general meeting of the Westbank Fire Protection District has voted strongly in favor of the proposed purchase of a new fire truck.

By a majority of 82.5 per cent, the ratepayers approved an expenditure of approximately $12,000, which will purchase a fully equipped King Seagrave fire-fighting unit, f.o.b. Westbank.

The new unit, which was chosen from among three bids by both the board of trustees of the fire protection district and the local volunteer fire brigade, will comply in every respect with specifications set down by the Underwriters' association. It will consist of a 500-gallon capacity tank, with some 200 feet of high pressure hose, a three-stage pump to give varied volume and pressure control, and all necessary ladders, axes, suction hose and other small equipment.

In addition, the trustees were assured that, in event of breakdown of any part or parts of the unit, the company from whom they will purchase it will guarantee arrival of a serviceman from Red Deer, Alta., within five hours.

Upon arrival of the unit in Westbank, probably some three months from now, it will be thoroughly tested by a representative of the underwriters' association. Following that, an instructor from the manufacturer will, at his company's expense, remain in Westbank to teach the volunteer fire brigade how to use the new equipment.

The new fire truck, which will be financed over a period of 10 years, through an increase in taxes of only one mill, will decrease considerably the chance of fire loss in this community. It was stressed by members of the board of trustees and by Fire Chief Paul Brown, that the present equipment has proven inadequate many times and definitely does not meet with requirements for fire-fighting equipment.

The old unit consisted of a converted second-hand truck, vintage 1940, with an also-converted spray tank which could be used only at high pressure, with little volume control. Recently, through funds raised by the fire brigade, a small engine pumping 250 gallons per minute was added, but even with this, the equipment is second-hand.

Only a few weeks ago, the brigade received a call to put out a brush fire, and the truck broke down en route and had to be towed back to its garage. The fire was brought under control by other methods, but, as Chief Brown pointed out, it is only due to good luck and good men on the brigade, who have taken a lot of chances they shouldn't have had to, that Westbank has not suffered a really severe fire loss, and perhaps loss of life.

As to the housing of the new truck, A. M. Thompson, chairman of the board of trustees, said the present garage, located on the United Church property, is adequate. However, even with financing of the new truck, a sinking fund of $500 annually will be maintained against the time that new premises will have to be obtained.

Recently, through funds raised by the fire brigade, a small engine pumping 250 gallons per minute was added, but even with this, the equipment is second-hand.

Only a few weeks ago, the brigade received a call to put out a brush fire, and the truck broke down en route and had to be towed back to its garage. The fire was brought under control by other methods, but, as Chief Brown pointed out, it is only due to good luck and good men on the brigade, who have taken a lot of chances they shouldn't have had to, that Westbank has not suffered a really severe fire loss, and perhaps loss of life.

As to the housing of the new truck, A. M. Thompson, chairman of the board of trustees, said the present garage, located on the United Church property, is adequate. However, even with financing of the new truck, a sinking fund of $500 annually will be maintained against the time that new premises will have to be obtained.

East Kelowna School Holds Annual Outing

EAST KELOWNA — The East Kelowna school children had their play-day Wednesday in the City Park, arriving at 10:30.

The program opened with races and tug-of-war. The highlight of the day was a visit to the bridge, which delighted the youngsters. Everybody enjoyed their lunch, weiners and buns with ice cream and soft drinks, served by members of the PTA.

A presentation was made to Mrs. E. P. Bailey by Mrs. L. G. Evans, president of the PTA. Mrs. Bailey has been teaching at the school for some years. She will be resuming her teaching duties at the Winfield School in the fall. Everyone wished her the best of luck in her new appointment.

Winfield Prepares For Gala Day Next Tuesday

WINFIELD — Plans are well under way to hold a gala sports day for young and old alike July 1, as part of Winfield's B.C. centennial celebration. This was reported at the centennial committee meeting held in the club room of the Memorial Hall, President of the Memorial Hall, President of the Memorial Hall, President of the Memorial Hall.

The afternoon will finish up with a ball game. In the evening, beginning at 8 o'clock, there will be a variety concert in the Memorial Hall. Both the sports day and the concert will be free to all Winfield residents. Between now and July 1, each evening, there will be Work Bees on the site of the new junior-senior high school where the sports day is to be held, to ready the field and erect booths. Anyone wishing to lend a hand would be welcomed.

J. McCoubrey reported for the project committee that the plywood siding for the bottom part of the outside of the hall was all applied and painted and the aluminum sheeting for the top was now delivered. Soon work parties would apply it. Completion of the outside of the hall in the centennial project.

Gordon Shaw, reporting for the fish derby committee, said that the derby is on now and will continue until July 31, for Winfield residents only, for game fish caught in Wood Lake, Oyama Lake, Beaver Lake and the Dee Lake chain. Weighing-in station is the Woodside General Store.

T. Duggan, reporting for the oldtimer's night committee, said the date for the dinner and entertainment for the oldtimers was set for August 19. There are 98 people being contacted who were residents in Winfield prior to 1914.

The grand free dance for residents will be held Sept. 1, and plans are in hand for this. The travelling caravans, reported H. Reddecoep will be in the district sometime in September. The definite date has not yet been received. The caravans will be parked outside the Memorial Hall.

Also there is to be a draw for the holder of the lucky ticket at the sports day, July 1.

The Centennial Park now has a watchman, who will also assist the lifeguard as caretaker during the summer months. He is A. S. Fewtrell, a retired railroader from Montreal, and formerly of Penitence, and the grandfather of Ian Schierbeck. He has already taken up residence in the cabin at the park.

The Rutland Park Society held a meeting in the Pavilion this week and appointed Ian Schierbeck as lifeguard for the swimming pool for the summer. The pool will be opened this weekend and the construction of a false wooden floor to the shallower end of the pool was approved, to make the pool usable for non-swimmers and smaller children, now that the water is deeper, due to raising the level to the top of the concrete wall, with a gutter around the concrete walk to run off overflow.
